HARROWING STORY BY A TENDERFOOT

It is a harrowing story that is told in Denver by Stuart A. Stone, according to information received in Goldfield by his friends. He claims he crawled 30 miles through a Nevada desert with a broken leg, living without food for days and enduring unparalleled hardships. But he thinks he has claims that will make him a millionaire.

Five years ago Stone says he came to Goldfield. He was made a deputy sheriff in time, but what he had learned of prospecting made an officer's beat too monotonous, and one day he struck out alone with pick and shovel. On three occasions, he says, he laid down on the desert expecting his time had come, but each time he was rescued. His final experience, according to the young man, drove him nearly insane. He had discovered what he thinks is his most valuable claim, about 30 miles outside of the Bullfrog district. To make sure, he says, it was necessary to drill and blast. But there was a premature explosion and, with scores of bruises and a broken leg, he realized that his only salvation lay in his ability to get back to civilization. He claims he had to wallow along on two hands and his left leg like a wounded dog for 30 miles, or until he reached Bullfrog. He crawled by night and by day, and it is said that when he came within sight of civilization his tongue was swollen from thirst and he was so weak that he fainted.

Stone says nothing about returning to Nevada.—Goldfield Tribune.

GREAT ORE SHOWING.

Estimated That Sawtooth Mine Has 25,000 Tons.

In past issues some comment has been made on the properties being worked by Holcomb and Anderson, lying about one and a half miles north of the Sawtooth townsite, but, after a personal examining, made by a representative of the News, a conservative statement can be made that an overestimate of the gigantic possibilities of this immense deposit of valuable ore by Dame Nature would be difficult to form. For 7000 feet the ore crops from this ground, almost continuously, in some places attaining a width of thirty-five feet, but averaging at least fifteen feet in width for the entire 7000 feet. It stands six feet in the air at some points and the silver can be plainly seen in the rock chipped from the croppings along the course of the vein. It is believed the ore will average from $50 to $100 per ton along the entire course and that there is fully 25,000 tons of it above the surface. It contains both gold and silver values, assays having given 153 ounces in silver and two ounces in gold. A prominent banker of Boston is interested with Messrs. Holcomb and Anderson and will arrive here about the middle of this month to inspect the property and he will certainly be amazed at the wonderful showing. 500 men could be put to work on this property to good advantage, all beginning on ore.

SILVER BOW'S RICH ORE.

A substantial proof that the Silver Bow district, seventy miles east of Goldfield, is rapidly coming to the front, was given through the shipment to the reduction works of a ton and a quarter of ore for treatment. It was not expected by the shipper that any great financial returns would be received, but rather there was the desire to determine exactly the value of his ore. The lot was sent in by W. Lindroth, who has recently entered a large silver ledge on his property in the district mentioned. The returns have not been made as yet, but it is believed the ore will go about $1100 to the ton.—Goldfield Review.

NOW IT'S DIVORCE FOR CHILD-WIFE

YOUNG WOMAN ASSERTS SHE STANDS READY TO PROVE CHARGES.

GOLDFIELD, Sept. 11.—Divorce proceedings will be begun in the district court against Major W. A. Stanton by his 16-year-old wife of a month, Blanche Nye Stanton, according to a statement of Mrs. Stanton this afternoon, and her attorney, Judge James K. Redington, whom she retained as counsel this morning, says the Chronicle. Mrs. Stanton and Judge Redington were closeted all afternoon and it is said that a bill for a divorce will be filed tomorrow.

The indignities alluded to by the young woman in her previous accounts of her husband's alleged inhuman treatment, will, she says, be mentioned in the bill.

"The divorce action is the only one which has been taken up at present," said Judge Redington. "As to any further proceedings, I have nothing to say. I am not at liberty to express an opinion on the case."

The case was brought to the attention of District Attorney Swallow yesterday, but he decided that as district attorney he could not give it attention until it came to him through the regular channels after the filing of a complaint. He accordingly advised the young woman that if she considered Major Stanton's conduct actionable, the regular method of procedure would be for her to procure other counsel and that he would be unable to take up the case until it was brought to him through the justice court.

Mrs. Stanton's plans are not completed as to her procedure, but she says that a divorce suit will be a part of the action. She is being cared for by Goldfield friends and will leave for San Francisco as soon as the preliminaries of her action against Major Stanton can be arranged.

Mrs. Stanton repeated her charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment against her husband this morning, and in a signed statement to the Chronicle said she would prove every assertion in court.

"I expected him to attack my character," she said, "and I am not surprised at his statements. As to the indiscretion which he charged against me, if I have committed any indiscretion, it was through ignorance. It is true that I went into several places on Columbia street, but I went with persons to whom Mr. Stanton had introduced me, and I supposed it was all right. Major Stanton has beaten me time and again. I have suffered intolerably since I have been with him. My statement that he threw a lamp at me is absolutely true. I have a lamp which I use for heating a curling iron and he picked it up and threw it at me. I have been told since I married Mr. Stanton that he has been married five times before, and I believe it. He told me he had never been married before. I don't wish to begin legal action unless I am compelled to, but I must defend myself and my character. If I could only see my mother! She would know what to do. My parents are in San Francisco now and I have been so afraid they would hear of this dreadful affair. If I can only get home, I'll never, never leave again. I can't go into details about my relations with Mr. Stanton, as I am told that I must not talk without consulting my lawyer. But I don't see why I should make any secret about it. I've been so frightened of him all the time and yet I didn't dare run away from him."

Mrs. Stanton's injuries are not serious and she no longer is under the care of a nurse. Her possessions are still at the Stanton residence, Crook and Sandog avenues, but she says she fears to return for them.

Sheriff Ingalls interested himself in the case during the day and made an attempt to find the young woman.

UNION'S DEMANDS ARE REFUSED

NEVADA-CALIFORNIA POWER COMPANY AT BISHOP HAS BUT FIFTY MEN.

As a result of the organization of the employees of the Nevada-California Power Company at the power plant, near Bishop, Cal., but fifty men of a force of 200 are employed.

The power company has refused to accept the wage scale presented by the union, which is an increase of approximately $1.00 a day for all classes of employees who are within the jurisdiction of the Western Federation.

C. W. Hobbs, general manager for the electric company, has conferred with the representatives of the Federation, of whom Robert Randall, the official representative of the national executive board, is the head, and explained to them that the company cannot grant the demands of the union.

"We have no objections to the men organizing," said Mr. Hobbs, "but we cannot grant the demand they have made for increased wages. We are paying now $2.00 a day and board to laborers, and other employees are paid on that basis. We are doing a large amount of work in the way of increasing the capacity of our plants and the money to pay for this work was raised after a careful computation of the cost, based on the existing wage scale. So far as the present service in Goldfield is concerned, it will have no effect, as we have ample power for present needs, but we will be delayed in the completion of our duplicate power line, which would eliminate, practically, any danger of a shutdown because of accidents to the line."

The farmers of Inyo county and residents of Bishop are taking a hand in the game, and oppose any further increase in the wage scale, claiming that it will ruin their business. A prominent resident of Bishop is in Goldfield today and consented to discuss the matter.

"Half a dozen of us conferred with Mr. Hobbs the other day relative to the situation," he said. "Before the power plant was started over there we had no trouble. We were paying $30 to $40 a month to farm laborers, with board, and had no trouble in getting all the help we needed. Since work commenced the wages have doubled. Our business won't stand a further increase, and we are opposed to it. We haven't bothered the organizers, nor said anything to them, as yet. The fact is, when the power company gets through with its work, say in a year, the men will have to go back to the farms and ranches for employment. They will demand the same scale of wages the company has been paying, and we can't stand it."

The power company has practically completed the line to Bullfrog, and has sufficient power in the plants now in operation to supply that camp. The transformer house and switch station for the big mill of the Pittsburg-Silver Peak at Blair is not finished, however, and until the matter of wages is settled the Pittsburg-Silver Peak Company will not be able to get the power for the mill, as the men have all joined the union and have been called out.

The Federation has posted circulars broadcast declaring a strike on at Bishop and warning men to stay away from the camp.—Goldfield Chronicle.

The State Fair, to be held at Reno this month, is attracting attention all over the State, and the Tonopah and Goldfield, and Goldfield and Bullfrog roads have made special rates of one and one-third fare for the round trip from all points on their lines. The tickets will be good from September 16th to the 21st, and good returning on the 22d. 9-1-14t

J. J. Trimble and Homer La Lima left yesterday morning for a trip to Battle Mountain to inspect some mining property. Mr. Trimble was accompanied as far as Reno by Mrs. Trimble and their little son, who are on their way to San Francisco.
